What is Vitiligo?

It is a condition that occurs when the cells that produce melanin die, or when they stop working. It is the appearance of white spots on the skin, and it affects any part of the body, even the hair and inside of the mouth.

causes:

- It may be due to an immune system disorder
- It may be due to a genetic factor
- It may be due to a trigger such as stress, severe sunburn, and exposure to certain chemicals
